

Dear Families,

This week, children will explore sea life. They will learn about creatures big and small that live in the ocean. They will also learn about caring for the ocean and the plants and animals that live there.

As we continue to celebrate our love of books this month, Wednesday is dress like your favorite storybook character! On Friday we'll celebrate grandparent's day with a special performance and snack with our special visitors. You must register anyone planning to attend this event. An email will be sent with some additional details, please be on the lookout.

We will explore numbers 10 and beyond, review our letters and also recognize Earth Day and learn ways we can help take care of it.
